

“Getting emerging talent and youth excited about theatre means theatre has a future.”

-Daniel MacIvor, Governor-General Award-winning actor, playwright and director & 2009 Paprika Leading Supporter

Add Some Spice! Donate to The Paprika Festival 2009

The Paprika Festival is a non-profit registered charity and is one of Canada's only FREE theatre education programs for youth 21 and under. Now in its 8th year, The Paprika Festival provides development opportunities to young emerging artists of all backgrounds – including those with limited means or exposure to the arts.

At The Paprika Festival, we believe that accessible education provides youth with the communication skills and the confidence to positively change the world. We hope you will consider making a gift in support of young artists. Your generosity helps us to connect young artists with theatre professionals through ongoing workshops and mentorship, and ensures our program remains free for our young participants and their audiences.
